capabilities.

1100-1215 DCI and Mr. Nelson, [redacted] in DCI Conference Room STATINTL
This hour and a quarter will address the clandestine service.
Specific case studies will be selected to illustrate foreign operations and covert action activities in such a way as to demonstrate CIA procedures, White House, NSC, and Congressional involvement and oversight.

NOTE: Objectives of the foregoing program are to:

1. Provide opportunity for dialogue with Committee members on Intelligence Community and Agency and provide an opportunity for the DCI to ask the Committee about their precise needs.
2. Demonstrate the need for protection of agent names, contractual relationships, overseas involvements, uses of cover and proprietaries.
3. Provide an opportunity for Committee to vent any misapprehensions they have or identify any hobby horses they wish to pursue.
4. Provide the Committee with an appreciation of the heavy reliance placed on technical and human sources collection and the sensitivities of the relationship involved.
